

Intuitive Machines Opens Houston's First Engine Verification Facility

HOUSTON, TX – Nov 1, 2022 – Intuitive Machines, LLC (“Intuitive Machines” or the “Company”), a leading space exploration, infrastructure, and services company, today opened its Small Engine Verification Facility (“Flame Range”).

The Flame Range is located within Intuitive Machines’ 12.5-acre lot at the Houston Spaceport, where Intuitive Machines is completing the construction on its 100,000 square foot Lunar Production and Operations Center (“LPOC”) with contractor Burns & McDonnell, and consulting by Griffin Partners. The Flame Range is a state-of-the-art testing facility, specifically designed to further develop, test, and vacuum-qualify Intuitive Machines’ advanced cryogenic engines to deliver payloads to the Moon. Moving into the Flame Range, and soon into the larger LPOC facility, is expected to enable Intuitive Machines to accelerate the development of its larger capacity lunar landers and expand its Space Products and Infrastructure business line.

Intuitive Machines is proud to partner with the City of Houston and the Houston Airport System, which are helping to finance the $40 million LPOC project that will make Intuitive Machines an anchor tenant at the Houston Spaceport.

Intuitive Machines’ liquid methane, liquid oxygen cryogenic engine, designed as an environmentally friendly, cost-effective, and reliable lunar delivery engine, supports NASA’s $93 billion Artemis Program and growing commercial demand for lunar access.

“In 1969, the first word spoken on the Moon was ‘Houston,’ and Intuitive Machines will continue to lead the United States back to the lunar surface with advanced propulsion engines made in Houston,” said Steve Altemus, Co-Founder, President, and Chief Executive Officer of Intuitive Machines. “Moving into our bespoke Small Engine Verification Facility, affectionately known as the Flame Range, thrusts Intuitive Machines onto a fast track for advanced larger engine development to support the entire industry.”

“Intuitive Machines grew up as a company alongside the Houston Spaceport and we’re proud to build upon that foundation with the strong commitment and support from the City of Houston”, said Jack Fischer, Vice President of Strategic Programs at Intuitive Machines. “We join the City of Houston, State of Texas, and vibrant local aerospace community in ensuring that ‘Space City’ isn’t just a tired moniker from the past, but a vibrant battle-cry of the future space economy.”

Intuitive Machines expects to conduct its first propulsion test inside the Flame Range later this month. The Company anticipates the construction of its LPOC facility to be completed in the fourth quarter of 2023.

- “We are Space City for a reason, and companies like Intuitive Machines make Houston proud! This unique facility will drive the next-generation lunar technology and will be essential for future space missions for decades to come,” said Houston Mayor Sylvester Turner. “Intuitive Machines’ continued impact in the aerospace industry is immeasurable, and our region will benefit tremendously from the work of bright and innovative Houstonians as they support humankind’s desire to explore the final frontier.”

- “Intuitive Machines continues to make an indelible imprint and impact on the landscape of long-term lunar infrastructure,” said Arturo Machuca, Director of the Houston Spaceport. “The Flame Range is indicative of the passion and innovation that Intuitive Machines has become well-known for in less than a decade of existence. The company’s attention to detail and pursuit of the highest-quality product is imperative as the United States returns to outer space and continues to cross boundaries. Houston Spaceport is so proud to be associated with them.”

As previously announced on September 16, 2022, Intuitive Machines signed a definitive business combination agreement with Inflection Point Acquisition Corp. (Nasdaq: IPAX, IPAXU, IPAXW), a publicly traded special purpose acquisition company, that is expected to result in Intuitive Machines becoming publicly listed. Completion of the transaction is subject to approval by Inflection Point’s shareholders, the Registration Statement being declared effective by the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”), and other customary closing conditions.

No Offer or Solicitation

This press release is for informational purposes only and shall neither constitute an offer to sell nor the solicitation of an offer to buy any securities, nor a solicitation of a proxy, vote, consent or approval in any jurisdiction in connection with the Business Combination, nor shall there be any sale of securities in any jurisdiction in which the offer, solicitation or sale would be unlawful prior to the registration or qualification under the securities laws of any such jurisdictions. No offering of securities shall be made except by means of a prospectus meeting the requirements of Section 10 of the Securities Act, or an exemption therefrom.

Forward Looking Statements

This press release contains certain forward-looking statements within the meaning of the federal securities laws with respect to the Business Combination. These forward-looking statements generally are identified by the words “believe,” “project,” “expect,” “anticipate,” “estimate,” “intend,” “strategy,” “future,” “opportunity,” “plan,” “may,” “should,” “will,” “would,” “will be,” “will continue,” “will likely result,” and similar expressions. Forward-looking statements are predictions, projections and other statements about future events that are based on current expectations and assumptions and, as a result, are subject to risks and uncertainties that could cause the actual results to differ materially from the expected results. Many factors could cause actual future events to differ materially from the forward-looking statements in this document, including but not limited to: (i) the risk that the Business Combination may not be completed in a timely manner or at all, which may adversely affect the price of Inflection Point’s securities, (ii) the risk that the Business Combination may not be completed by Inflection Point’s business combination deadline and the potential failure to obtain an extension of the business combination deadline if sought by Inflection Point, (iii) the failure to satisfy the conditions to the consummation of the Business Combination, including the receipt of the requisite approvals of Inflection Point’s shareholders and Intuitive Machines’ equity holders, respectively, and the receipt of certain governmental and regulatory approvals, (iv) the occurrence of any event, change or other circumstance that could give rise to the termination of the business combination agreement, (v) the effect of the announcement or pendency of the Business Combination on Intuitive Machines’ business relationships, performance, and business generally, (vi) risks that the Business Combination disrupts current plans of Intuitive Machines and potential difficulties in Intuitive Machines employee retention as a result of the Business Combination, (vii) the outcome of any legal proceedings that may be instituted against Intuitive Machines or against Inflection Point related to the agreement and plan of merger or the Business Combination, (viii) the ability to maintain the listing of Inflection Point’s securities on Nasdaq, (ix) the price of Inflection Point’s securities may be volatile due to a variety of factors, including changes in the competitive and highly regulated industries in which Intuitive Machines plans to operate, variations in performance across competitors, changes in laws and regulations affecting Intuitive Machines’ business and changes in the combined capital structure, (x) the ability to implement business plans, forecasts, and other expectations after the completion of the Business Combination and identify and realize additional opportunities, (xi) the impact of the global COVID-19 pandemic, (xii) the market for commercial human spaceflight has not been established with precision, it is still emerging and may not achieve the growth potential Intuitive Machines expects or may grow more slowly than expected, (xiii) space is a harsh and unpredictable environment where Intuitive Machines’ products and service offerings are exposed to a wide and unique range of environmental risks, which could adversely affect Intuitive Machines’ launch vehicle and spacecraft performance, (xiv) Intuitive Machines’ business with various governmental entities is subject to the policies, priorities, regulations, mandates and funding levels of such governmental entities and may be negatively or positively impacted by any change thereto, (xv) Intuitive Machines’ limited operating history makes it difficult to evaluate its future prospects and the risks and challenges they may encounter and (xvi) other risks and uncertainties described in Inflection Point’s registration statement on Form S-1 (File No. 333-253963), which was originally filed with the SEC on September 21, 2021 (the “Form S-1”), in its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended 2021 and its subsequent Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q, the Registration Statement, the proxy statement/prospectus contained therein, and any other documents filed by Inflection Point from time to time with the SEC. The foregoing list of factors is not exhaustive. These forward-looking statements are provided for illustrative purposes only and are not intended to serve as, and must not be relied on by investors as, a guarantee, an assurance, a prediction or a definitive statement of fact or probability. You should carefully consider the foregoing factors and the other risks and uncertainties described in the “Risk Factors” section of the Form S-1, the Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended 2021, the Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q, the Registration Statement, the proxy statement/prospectus contained therein, and the other documents filed by Inflection Point from time to time with the SEC. These filings identify and address other important risks and uncertainties that could cause actual events and results to differ materially from those contained in the forward-looking statements. These risks and uncertainties may be amplified by the COVID-19 pandemic, which has caused significant economic uncertainty. Forward-looking statements speak only as of the date they are made. Readers are cautioned not to put undue reliance on forward-looking statements, and Intuitive Machines and Inflection Point assume no obligation and do not intend to update or revise these forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events, or otherwise, except as required by securities and other applicable laws. Neither Intuitive Machines nor Inflection Point gives any assurance that either Intuitive Machines or Inflection Point, respectively, will achieve its expectations.

Participants in the Solicitation

Inflection Point and Intuitive Machines and their respective directors and officers may be deemed to be participants in the solicitation of proxies from Inflection Point's shareholders in connection with the Business Combination. Information about Inflection Point's directors and executive officers and their ownership of Inflection Point's securities is set forth in Inflection Point's filings with the SEC. To the extent that holdings of Inflection Point's securities have changed since the amounts printed in Inflection Point's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended 2021, such changes have been or will be reflected on Statements of Change in Ownership on Form 4 filed with the SEC. Additional information regarding the interests of those persons and other persons who may be deemed participants in the Business Combination may be obtained by reading the proxy statement/prospectus regarding the Business Combination when it becomes available. You may obtain free copies of these documents as described in the preceding paragraph.
